

Health Professionals Say No!

5 September 2020

Hon Peter Gutwein
Premier of Tasmania
address

Dr Mr Gutwein

Re: End-of-Life Choices (Voluntary Assisted Dying) Bill 2020

Health Professionals Say No! is a national organisation of over 800 healthcare professionals who are concerned about the implications of legalisation of euthanasia and physician-assisted suicide for the Tasmanian public. We believe that such legislation will have serious consequences for many citizens, which should be carefully reviewed before any parliamentary debate on this issue commences.

We are aware that last week Independent MLC, Michael Gaffney introduced the End-of-Life Choices (Voluntary Assisted Dying) Bill 2020 into the Legislative Council which proposes the introduction of voluntary assisted dying. We are concerned that there has been inadequate opportunity for public consultation before the introduction of legislation which would represent a significant alteration of end of life care for the people in Tasmania.

Such an opportunity has been made available by other State and Territory Governments in Australia who have begun their consideration of this issue through a rigorous Parliamentary Inquiry process over a period of about 12 months. The terms of reference of such inquiries usually include a range of end of life issues such as access to Palliative Care and other support services.

Other State and Territory governments have only formed their position on legislative change once this process of consultation is concluded. Given that such Parliamentary Inquiries were conducted in Victoria, the ACT, Western Australia, South Australia and Queensland it seems that the same process is also appropriate in Tasmania. In particular, it would be important to hear from the whole Tasmanian community about their experience of palliative care services and whether there are any gaps in access.

The members of Health Professionals Say No! call on the Tasmanian Government to support any motion moved in the Legislative Assembly seeking establishment of a Parliamentary Committee of Inquiry into 'End of Life Decision Making and Care' with broad terms of reference and a reporting period of approximately 12 months. We trust this process will not be hurried in the current climate when public hearings would be hampered by the need to limit travel and observe social distancing.

We attach our organisation's policy statement for your information. Thank you for considering our request.

Yours sincerely

Dr Helen Lord,
MB BS MPHCh FACHPM, General Practitioner and Palliative Medicine Specialist,

Appendix: Position Statement for Health Professionals Say No!

We endorse the views of the World Medical Association that physician assisted suicide and euthanasia are unethical, even if made legal. We endorse the Australian Medical Association position that "doctors should not be involved in interventions that have as their primary intention the ending of a person's life."

We also endorse the World Health Organisation definition of Palliative Care, which has been re-affirmed by the Australia & New Zealand Society of Palliative Medicine, that Palliative Care aims to deliver impeccable holistic and person centred care without the aim of foreshortening life.

We are committed to the concept of death with dignity and comfort, including the provision of effective pain relief and excellence in Palliative Care. We uphold the right of a patient to decline treatment. We know that the provision of pain relief, even if it may unintentionally hasten death of the patient, is ethical and legal. Equally the withdrawal or withholding of futile treatment in favour of Palliative Care is also ethical and legal.

We believe that crossing the line to intentionally assist a person to suicide would fundamentally weaken the doctor-patient relationship, which is based on trust and respect. The power of the clinician/patient relationship cannot be over-estimated. It is proven the desire to die diminishes dramatically when appropriate care and support is provided.

We are especially concerned with protecting vulnerable people who can feel they have become a burden to others, and are committed to supporting those who find their own life situations a heavy burden. We believe such laws would undermine the public perception of the dignity and value of human life in all its different stages and conditions.

Legislation does not make euthanasia and assisted suicide medical treatments, nor part of healthcare practice and evidenced good end of life care. There is strong evidence to the inherent lack of safety and proven abuses where physician assisted suicide and euthanasia laws exist. Overseas data remains incomplete and under-representative of complication rates, with minimal description of the impact of coercion, complications for those with failed administration of these drugs, and with misleading claims around safety and scope creep.

Government focus should be on the compassionate and equitable provision of Social Services, Health Care and Palliative Care toward maintaining and protecting the dignity and lives of those with illness, age or disablement. There is still much to be done to address social, medical, palliative care and mental health service inequity in our society, and especially so in regional Australia.

Doctors and Healthcare Professionals are not necessary for the legalisation or practice of assisted suicide. Their involvement is being sought only to provide a cloak of medical legitimacy. Doctors, nurses and allied health professionals focus should be on saving lives and providing the real care and support needed for those who are suffering.
